LEVEAU, ETS

Stand N°S2-C5

www.brasserieada.be

Like many Belgian abbeys, the Cistercians of Aulne Abbey had been brewing their own beer since the middle ages. The abbey had to provide for about 1000 monks and friars. Strong beers like the Blonde, Brune and Triple were served on special occasions. Light beers were for daily consumption. In 1849 the brewery was closed. Some 100 years later lay persons were allowed to brew abbey beer for the first time.

Brasserie de l'Abbey de l'Aulne revived the brewing business in 1950. Today the abbey produces its specialty Belgian beer following the traditional brewing arts of its founders, the Cistercian Monks of Aulne Abbey.
